DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is responsive to communication: amendment filed 5 November 2004 with recognition of a filing date of 19 April 2000.
2. Claims 5-11 are currently pending in this application. Claim 5 is an independent claim.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 5-11 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language

5. Claims 5-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Schneider et al. U.S. Patent No. 6,178,505 (hereinafter '505).

As to independent claim 5, "A computer security service for a computer network accessible by users and comprising services and resources, the computer security service comprising" is taught in '505 col. 7, line 59 through col. 8, line 15;

"a policy builder component available to one or more policy managers for defining access policies for the computer network users, services and resources, and" is shown in col. 8, line 60 through col. 9, line 10;

“a web-based delegated administration component accessible to users” is disclosed in ‘505 col. 25, lines 12-65;

“for defining access policies for the computer network users, services and resources the delegated administration component comprising a graphical user interface available to users for defining said access policies” is taught in ‘505 col. 23, lines 15-65.

As to dependent claim 6, “in which the delegated administration component is implemented as a service supported by the computer security service” is shown in ‘505 col. 25, lines 12-18.

As to dependent claim 7, “in which the graphical user interface comprises one or more HTML format pages accessible to users” is disclosed in ‘505 col. 25, lines 23-40.

As to dependent claim 8, “further comprising a delegated administration definition component for defining delegated administration permissions for users whereby users are selectively enabled to use the delegated administration component to define access policies for specified resources and users” is taught in ‘505 col. 31, line 17 through col. 32, line 8.

As to dependent claim 9, “in which the delegated administration definition component further comprises a graphical user interface for displaying a grid having nodes, laid out on a first axis and on a second axis, each node corresponding to a variable set of users, potentially including the null set, for which delegated administration permissions are granted, the position of each node relative to the first and second axes in the grid defining the users and the resources, respectively, for which permissions are granted for the node” is shown in ‘505 col. 31, lines 17-32.

As to dependent claim 10, "the graphical user interface further comprising an array of nodes relative to the second axis for defining specified users enabled to modify user data maintained by the computer security service, the position of each node in the array of nodes, relative to the first axis, defining the user data for which the modification of data is enabled" is disclosed in '505 col. 31, lines 17-32.

As to dependent claim 11, this claim is directed to a computer readable program code of the computer security service of the above claims and is rejected along the same rationale.
